

ALEXANDRIA.
MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 21.

REPORTS from Samoa via San Francisco state that the German civil and military officials there have combined to enforce their schemes upon the natives; that in pursuit of these schemes they have insulted and outraged all who have stood in their way; that they have bombarded towns and destroyed the houses of citizens of the United States who had raised the United States flag for protection; insulted and burned the U. S. flag, and that Americans have been arrested and imprisoned by the Germans. At the State Department in Washington these sensational accounts are said to be the same as briefly described by the U. S. consul in a cable message on the 5th inst. The Americans who were seized were released immediately afterwards. The latest information received is to the effect that affairs are quiet in that country and that no serious trouble has occurred since the 5th inst.

AS MOST people like to read about things with which they are familiar, Mr. Max O'Reil's book, "The Frenchman's Idea of Jonathan and his Continent," just out, will probably have a large sale in this country. Mr. O'Reil is surprised that aristocracy exists in this country, but says that it does, and that it is threefold, of blood, money and brains. He confesses that he does not like to trap, but that as it is polite to eat it, he ate it. He also says that canvas back ducks are eaten so raw here that an Englishman, to whom one was served at a restaurant, called the waiter, and told him to pass through the kitchen with it once more.

WHILE a white female free school teacher in Louisa county was hearing a class recite last week, a negro man entered the school room, and, taking a book from one of the members, said he would hear the class; and so insolent was he that the school had to be dismissed in order to get him out. This is only a fair sample of the effect a republican victory has upon a people as yet incapable of correctly understanding the true meaning of suffrage and the real interpretation of a political victory under a democratic form of government. And yet, Northern republicans say negro majorities in the South, shall rule.

THE RICHMOND Dispatch, referring to the State debt, says "there is not, so far as we know, one member of the Virginia legislature who would be willing to increase the State taxes." If a slight increase in the tax rate were required to settle the State debt and remove the foul stain of repudiation from the once bright escutcheon of Virginia, those members of the Virginia legislature who might vote for it would set feathers in their caps. But no increase in the rate of taxation is demanded by the creditors; on the contrary, their last proposition for a settlement provided that there should be no such increase.

A FLEET was sent to Hayti to demand of the poor, distracted and weak negro government of that country the surrender of an American vessel which had been properly seized while attempting to run the blockade. Now that the powerful German government has torn down the American flag in Samoa and destroyed American property there against the protest of the American consul, no little curiosity is manifested as to what course will be adopted toward that government. Hard measures to weak and soft measures to strong governments are by no means creditable to those who employ them.

THE FACT that the republican members of the U. S. Senate have voted to take the duty off sugar, and to pay a bounty to sugar producers, naturally suggests the idea that as only about one-fifth of the amount exacted of the people by the tariff reaches the Treasury, the remaining four-fifths going into the pockets of the few owners of the mines and factories, it would be a great deal cheaper to the people if the whole tariff were abolished, and a bounty paid the producers of all the articles on which a duty is now imposed.

AS IT will be necessary for the Senate to elect a President pro tempore if the Vice-President absents himself without designating the presiding officer, Mr. Ingalls, it is understood, will be selected by his colleagues a few days after the meeting of the next Congress. However, as President pro tempore with the Vice-President regularly acting as presiding officer, he will not receive the additional $3,000 per annum which, as President pro tempore without a Vice-President, he has received for the past two years.

NO MORE can now be said against Mr. Miller, the wood pulp manufacturer, who, when in Congress, voted against a reduction in the tariff on that article, for several United States Senators, and some, to the great injury of their party, democrats, have recently voted against a reduction in the tariff on coal, though they are largely interested in the coal trade.

THE "reputable gentleman," who was quoted as saying that Mr. Blaine would never become Secretary of State because Mr. Blaine had once snubbed the President's wife, now says that the story has not the slightest foundation. He says he never originated the story, nor anything like it.

UPWARDS of $50,000 have been subscribed for the inauguration ceremonies at Washington on the 4th of March. It is said that over 18,000 civilians will be in the procession and that the military display will be even larger.

IT NOW appears that after all the dispute about Gen. Sheridan's birth place, he did not see the light of day in Ohio, but was born in Albany, N. Y., shortly after his parents arrived in this country from Ireland.

THE Lieutenant-Governor of Michigan was killed in a railroad accident in that State last Saturday. The "iron horse" is no respecter of persons.

MR. AND MRS. MORTON called at the White House last Saturday and were courteously received by Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland. And why not?

THE ELECTION of a Liberal in a Scottish district over the Tory candidate for Parliament is heralded as a great victory for Gladstone.

THE BURNING lake fire and brimstone in Indiana—Office seekers and their backers should beware.

FROM WASHINGTON.
[Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21, 1889.

THE U. S. Supreme Court to-day denied the motion of Mr. Royal, of Virginia, for the court to issue its own execution against the State of Virginia in the case in which the Hastings Court of Richmond issued its execution and the Sergeant of that city was forcibly put out of the capitol there while attempting to execute the levy. The court set the 24 day of its next term for the hearing of the cases of Brvan vs. Virginia, Cooper vs. Virginia, and Ellett vs. Virginia, to which day the hearing of the case of Vashon vs. Greenhow was also postponed.

THE Senate to-day after the morning hour resumed the consideration of the tariff bill. Mr. Vest played with effect upon the harp of the protectionists, on the section reducing the tariff on rice, saying that though their cry was that the real object of the tariff was to protect labor, they wanted to reduce the duty on an article nine tenths of the cost of which was for labor; but he could explain the inconsistency, he said, upon the ground of geographical situation. Unless the time for the consideration of this bill be extended the vote on it must be taken to-morrow. Its fate in the Senate even is undecided, for if Mr. Quay, who is not in love with it, shall vote against it, Mr. Brown shall vote with his party, it cannot pass.

THE administration is in a sort of quandary on the Samoan affair. It hesitates about committing itself to any line of policy, because that line may be reversed by the incoming administration. To avoid that trouble it is even thinking about leaving the matter to the determination of the republican members of the congressional foreign affairs committee.

To-day was the day for the call of States in the House for bills and resolutions. It was also the day for the consideration of the Oklahoma bill, but that the opponents of the latter had determined to filibuster to kill it was made apparent as soon as the session commenced by their demand for the reading of every bill and resolution that was introduced under the call of States.

THE annual Washington convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association will commence at the Congressional Church here to-night and continue for three days. Among those who will deliver addresses during the session is Caroline Hollowell Miller, of Maryland.

REPUBLICAN politicians from Virginia here to-day say that ex-collector Craig, of Virginia, has applied for the place of U. S. District Attorney for the western district of Virginia under the incoming administration; Mr. McCall for that of internal revenue collector; Mr. John Wise for Solicitor General; that Mr. Frank Blair will be a candidate for old place, Attorney General of Virginia, and Mr. Lamb for Governor.

MAHONE'S UTTERANCES.—The publication of the recent interview with Mahone during his visit to Charleston, S. C., has created quite a stir in colored republican circles. A good many of the leaders who had heretofore endorsed the Virginia readjuster are disposed to withdraw their endorsement after his announcement that the colored men must be content to take a back seat in politics. Others announce their disbelief in the fact of his having made any such utterance. A singular fact that followed Mahone's visit is that the candidates for postmaster have been largely increased. It has been pretty well settled that Dr. W. C. Crum, a colored physician, was to have the postoffice, at Charleston, but Gen. Taft, postmaster under Garfield, and who was supposed to have retired from politics, is again in the field for the office. A good many people think that if Mahone gets the postmaster generalship he will distribute the federal offices in South Carolina among his ex-Confederate friends.

NEW BUILDING AND GYMNASIUM.—At the meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors Friday night Mr. H. M. Clarke, of Washington, said: "It is desirable to have a building adapted to the needs of the Alexandria work. It should contain everything necessary for the greatest happiness and well-being of the young men of this city. In Washington Thursday night 600 young men between 16 and 35 years of age entered one of the lowest theatres; in one church prayer meeting there was but one young man; in another, the largest church in Washington, there were only 13. The more attractive we make our rooms the more young men we are going to get in them. It has been a very noticeable fact that with the exception of a few colleges no athletic society has long been able to support a gymnasium. The Y. M. C. A. has succeeded in making them a permanency. All our large associations have gymnasiums. We in Washington feel very closely allied to the work here in Alexandria and long to see a strong work organized here." Mr. Williams spoke of the young men won to Jesus Christ in Richmond through the gymnasium. He said: "Alexandria is able to do and can do just as much as any other place in the State. In Staunton, a town of 9,000 population, they are erecting a building costing $35,000 and it will be the best in the State. We need the gymnasium because it is one of the approved methods for winning young men."

Just for fun.

The gas burns brightly in the Market House steple from midnight till six in the morning, when ninety-nine per cent. of the good people are at their homes; but at six a. m. promptly during the months of December, January and February the worthy Janitor "douses the glimmer," and the poor working man or woman who has no "Waterbury" cannot tell whether they have time to eat a cold or a hot breakfast. A number of our mechanics take the early boat or train for Washington. They invariably look for the time when passing the Market House, but all is dark. Will the "authorities" see to it that the clock can be seen at all hours?

Wheelwright vs. the Richmond and Danville railroad company, to recover damages for loss of property on a Pullman sleeper while traveling from Richmond to Danville in August, 1888, the judge has decided that the law was in favor of the plaintiff and entered judgment for amount awarded by the jury, $148.75.

Price and Philip Beck, was decided in favor of the defendants by a jury, after a trial lasting eleven days. The case involved the title to five thousand acres of rich mineral lands lying in the Blue Ridge mountains.

A dispatch from Richmond says it seems to be pretty well settled that the democratic State committee will establish permanent headquarters there and elect a secretary with a salary of three thousand dollars a year. Among those mentioned in connection with the position are Mr. Ham. Shepherd, the present collector of internal revenue for the Staunton district, and Mr. Jas. R. Fisher, the assistant postmaster of the House of Representatives.

The report of the formation of a new Panama canal company is premature, as nothing can be settled till after the shareholders' meeting on the 26th. In the meantime leading financial houses in Paris who have hitherto been assisting the company in the matter of loans, decline to do so further.

St. Joseph's Convent, at Locust Gap, near Philadelphia, was burned to the ground yesterday morning. Mother Mary Columba and the five sisters forming the community fortunately escaped unhurt. The flames spread so rapidly that the sisters, and those who came to their assistance, were unable to save anything.

James Thomas, alias Wm. Brennan, who was arrested at St. Louis Friday for writing threatening letters to fallen women, signing himself "Jack the Ripper," was Saturday committed to the insane asylum. When arrested he frankly confessed that he had come to St. Louis for the purpose of killing women on Poplar street and Clark avenue, a notorious quarter of the city.

The difficulties between the bridge contractors at Pottsville, Kan., and the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas Railroad had a tragic termination yesterday when the draw broke in two, precipitating forty employees into the river, more than one half of whom were drowned before assistance could reach them.

Secretary and Mrs. Whitney gave a chosen few of their friends on Saturday afternoon a musical treat in the performance in their ball room of the Adomosci Quartette. An exquisite programme was rendered. Mrs. Cleveland sat in a far corner surrounded by friends. She wore a cloth dress of light brown trimmed with beaver fur and gold accents, and her hat was a tip tilted felt, with a low crown and broad brim, trimmed with short, fancy tips. Mrs. Whitney received her guest in a quaint, old fashioned frock of white satin, the skirt full and round with a deep hem at the edge and a short train of striped brocade. Among the guests was Miss Mildred Lee.

He was concealed in an upper room and was awakened at a late hour by persons who had effected an entrance. Proceeding to a lower room he was fired upon by one of the men, the bullet grazing his forehead. He returned the fire with a double barreled shotgun, killing the fellow instantly. The rest fled. The dead man was found to be Al Harrison aged 21, son of respectable parents, and who had all ways been well thought of in the community. He had a revolver in each hand. Harrison's companions are still unknown.

It is feared the oil will take fire and destroy the other tanks and much other property adjacent to the plant. The loss is estimated at from $6,000 to $8,000.

Killed his Brother-in-Law.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Jan. 21.—Shortly after midnight yesterday morning John McNeill shot his brother-in-law, James Dellett, jr., on his front door step. Death was instantaneous. O'Neal says he thought his brother-in-law was a member of a white cap band, and shot in self defense. Some neighbors, however, think the killing was premeditated and causeless.

A TRAGIC ELOPEMENT.

—Henry Thomas, an old farmer, of Bolar, Mo., has four daughters, named Hattie, Margaret, Nancy and Jane. Last Wednesday night Samuel and Charles Hasbun procured a ladder and helped Margaret and Jane out of the second story window of their father's house, and eloped with the girls. Mr. Thomas at once procured a horse and a shotgun and started in pursuit, and overtaking the fleeing party, he immediately opened fire on them, killing both the boys and so seriously wounding Margaret that she died. After getting nearly home with the girls he was told that the other two, Hattie and Nancy, had also eloped with Ned Gleason and Thomas Allison. He at once left the girls with some neighbors and started after the others. After securing the other two girls without any serious trouble, he started back, but when about two miles from home a mob took possession of him and hung him up to a tree.

A SAINTLY SINNER.—Doctor William

Boothby, of Manchester, N. H., left for Boston Friday morning, sending word to his wife that he would not return. He was followed in the afternoon by Mrs. George A. Kenner, a Russian woman of great beauty. It was supposed that they were en route for Switzerland. The eloping parties stood well in social circles. Dr. Boothby leaves a wife to whom he seemed greatly devoted. He was constant in his attendance upon church, and closely identified socially with representative families. Mrs. Kenner is the wife of a local agent of a life insurance company, and besides being very attractive is highly accomplished. Doctor Boothby addressed letters to his wife, announcing that he had left Manchester forever; that she had been a good and true wife and that the years of his married life had been most happy. Mrs. Kenner leaves a husband and one child.

A TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The

breaking of a truck under a coach on the Northwestern railroad, near Elmwood, Michigan, on Saturday, threw the coach off the track, killing three passengers and injuring all the other occupants. Among the killed was L. Gov. McDonald, of Michigan, who was playing cards at the time with a party of friends. It seems that the car in turning over struck a stump, which penetrated it between the men who were playing cards. Mr. McDonald had his arm torn out of the shoulder, and was found at least forty feet from the body. He lived about an hour, and was conscious for a few minutes. The whole side of the car was torn out by a second stump, and it seems miraculous that any escaped.

On the night of the 19th instant while a United States marshal, with a posse of citizens, was escorting the four Marlow brothers, Buckhart and a man named Pierce to the jail at Wethersford, Texas, the prisoners being indicted for four murders and eight cases of horse theft, a mob of thirty citizens attempted to lynch them. The marshal and posse defended the prisoners, when a terrible fight took place. Two of the Marlow brothers and four of the posse were killed at the first fire. One of the Marlowa and Pierce were wounded, and one of the citizens mortally hurt. The prisoners Pierce, Marlow and Buckhart escaped, but all are said to be wounded.

The House of Representatives on Saturday passed the fortifications appropriation bill. The conference report on the bill to protect young girls (making the age of consent in the district of Columbia sixteen years, and providing a penalty of fifteen years or less for the first offense, and thirty years for each subsequent offense) was agreed to. Mr. Ford, of Michigan, reported from the committee on immigration a bill to regulate immigration, which was placed on the calendar. It recommends the exclusion of anarchists and paupers, a head money tax of $5, and inspection of intending immigrants by United States consuls abroad.

While Mrs. D. Call and her 16-year-old son were returning from church at Hill, N. H., last night they were attacked in a lonely place on the road, the boy driven off and his mother dragged into the woods and assaulted. Three men, two of whom are brothers, were arrested and jailed, after confessing their guilt.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The stock market, outside of the few leaders, showed very little vim this morning, and first prices in the general list were irregularly changed for small fractions only. At 10:30 there was a slight recovery and the market became quite dull, there being only a half dozen stocks which showed any animation whatever, and prices fluctuated within the narrowest limits, the market at 11 o'clock being dull and steady to firm at but slight changes from the opening figures.
